
Do You Want To Buy Some Energy?

Few people realize that energy is for sale. Some food has lots of energy. Some food has very little.

If you could buy the highest energy-giving food for from a third to a half less in price than any other food, you would nab it quick.

DIXIE Margarine has one of the highest Energy-giving values of any food. It has a higher food value than butter itself.†

Besides which, DIXIE Margarine is absolutely pure. Every ingredient is Pasteurized.* And the milk and cream that go into it—and we use thousands of gallons daily—are RE-PASTEURIZED.*

DIXIE is the new Margarine with the full butter flavor. It is the latest and greatest product of Wm. J. Moxley, the Founder of the Margarine industry in America.

Tasty as butter, higherin food value, absolutely pure* and from a third to a half less in price.

Buy it and try it and see for yourself.

*Ask your family physician about Pasteurization.

†Any Food Expert in the country will tell you that DIXIE has over 3,700 energy units as against less than 3,500 for butter.

SLEEPY-TIME TALES

By ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

Author of the TUCK-ME-IN Tales

Colored wrapped and text illustrations drawn by HARRC L. SMITH

Large 16mo. Bound in Cloth. Price 50 cents per volume

The Tale o Cuffy Bear

Cuffy was a genuine, if unintentional clown, and his antics make a book that all children will agree is very funnny.

The Tale of Frisky Squirrel

Frisky Squirrel was a very lively little fellow, who would have been spared many difficulties if he had minded his parents.

The Tale of Tommy Fox

Tommy Fox was always trying to imitate the deeds of his elders, and this got him into all sorts of trouble.

The Tale of Fatty Coon

Fatty Coon loved to eat, and that was what made him so fat, and also led him into many adventures.

The Tale of Billy Woodchuck

Billy Woodchuck lived in Farmer Greee's pasture. His many exploits with Dog Spot were mighty interesting.

The Tale of Jimmy Rabbit

Everybody liked Jimmy Rabbit. He never tried to bite even the smallest creature, and he was full of fun.

The Tale of Peter Mink

Although Peter Mink's body was long, his temper was short. But he was not really bad, and he was very brave.

The Tale of Sandy Chipmunk

One of the busiest bodies was Sandy Chipmunk. He was a great worker.

The Tale of Brownie Beaver

Brownie Beaver could do wonderful things. He could cut down a tree and build a dam across Swift River.

The Tale of Paddy Muskrat

Paddy Muskrat lived in the bank of a brook. He liked to paddle in the water. That was why he was called Paddy.

The Tale of Ferdinand Frog

Ferdinand Frog was always cheerful, although a very jumpy sort of person.

CHEAP POLITICS

The Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., has given out the following statement from its Washington Headquarters:

"The general public may not realize that the proceedings in the Truman H. Newberry case are, to say the least, unusual. The remarkable part of the whole affair is the fact that the case is brought by the Federal government. The rule heretofore has been for the contestants to fight the matter out and then for the Senate committee to base its findings in an investigation of its own. But in Senator Neweberry's case the Senate investigation will wait until the case is decided in court.

"Either a decided attempt has been made to conceal the fact that the same charge was made against Ford that was made against Newberry, or else that fact has been forgotten. Nevertheless such is the case and while the federal agents are working night and day against Newberry they have paid no attention whatever to the charges against Ford. The charge in both cases was expending more money than the federal statute permits.

"The suggestion which naturally arises is this: a new form of political corruption where the party in power with the massive machinery of government at beck and call turns that power and wealth against an enemy and at the same time ignores all charges against a friend, although the friend is in the same obat. It will be remembered that Henry Ford's candidacy was announced at the request of President Wilson and everything within power was done by the administration to elect the Detroit manufacturer. While Ford had been an advocate of pacifism and while he talked against the war and while his son was exempted from service. Truman H. Newberry was serving his codntry in its hohr of need and his two sons were in the thick of the fight.

"The defeat of Ford was undoubtedly a severe blow to Mr. Wilson and a great disappointment to his followers. It meant the control of the Senate. In order apparently to wreak vengeance, a disappointed administration now attempts to use the Federal government to bring about the desired results. The people can demand justice, and justice will be demanded. If one must be tried let both contestants be tried.

Let us have the story of the Ford machine and the millions spent for his election. Let us have the story of the influence brought to bear from the White House and every other source of the Federal government. If there is to be a fight on the issue let it be fair and in the open."

THE FARM TODAY

One of the most serious problems of the country today is the shortage of farm labor. Its solution is of importance to everyone. It becomes a serious matter when productivity of the soil is severely cut, because it is impossible to obtain the services oof men to cultivate and harvest the crops. A revival of "back to the farm" movement throughout the land during this winter would be an excellent way to help lower the cost of living.

There was a time not many years ago when wages to farm hands were so low that many a husky, intelligent youth sought employment in the city so that he could have enough money to buy a bicycle. The lure of regular employment at moderate wages and city amusements attracted thousands of able, clear-living young men who had been reared on the farms. But, after toiling in industrial establishments driving teams and doing other manual labor, and after owning bicycles and automobiles and getting their fill of the exciting pleasures of the cities, that inborn love for the quiet of the country home fireside, rolling fields and companionable associates aroused within the breasts of a great number, when they grew older, a desire to spend the remainder of their lives on the farm.

Just before the war the "back to the farm" movement had become large. But, attracted by high wages which followed the beginning of hostilities, the tide turned the other way. Soon the cry of insufficient help arose from agriculturists everywhere. The prices of farm produce increased rapidly and the farmers' prosperity became greater than it had ever been. Yet during the last two years farmers have been unable to turn out crops in full capacity to their acreage, because there was little or no response to their calls for help.

MAKING GOOD ROADS

In speaking of the road leading from Finleyville to Library, probably one of the most important roads in the county, and one which is traveled daily by many autos, the Washington Observer says:—

This is an important highway—one which connects the entire river section with Pittsburg. It is the only outlet for possibly 100,000 people. The road ought to be maintained by the state for it is not a road which is used exclusively for county traffic. It is a through road. But the State Highway department will not take over roads, even though on state highway routes, when built by the county, until the county has permanently improved them. This means that the past policy of road construction must be changed—that all roads built on these highway routes or on through routes should be in conformity with the plans and specifications of the State Highway department and that they should be built to stay.

The records of the State Highway department for the past two years show that the maintenance cost on concrete roads built by the state under its present plans and specificatioons are costing less than $50 per year to maintain. In fact maintenance costs have been cut to a minimum.

And this policy must be followed by the board of county commissioners and by local township authorities if we are to make any progress in road building during the next few years. This is the policy which has been approved by the Good Roads association and this is one of the reasons why there is such an organization comprised of the leading, public spirited citizens of every section of the county.

A new board of commissioners will take office on the first of January. The new commissioners may or may not know much about road building But they can learn much from the experiences of those who have gone before. They can consult with those who know and they can co-operate with the State Highway department in taking advantage of the experience of a road organization which knows how to build roads.

The commissioners following such a policy will not only have back of them the men of the Good Roads association, but every citizen who has the welfare of the public at heart. Public sentiment will be with them and that will mean much.

The time has gone by when we can afford to waste money on road building. There is no excuse for further experimenting. It is time to get down to business and do things in a businesslike way.

"At what point shall we expect the approach of danger? By what means shall we fortify against it? Shall we expect some trans-Atlantic military giant to step across the ocean and crush us at a blow? Never. All the armies of Europe, Asia, and Africa combined with all the treasures of the earth, (our own excepted) in their military chest, with a Bonaparte or commander, could not by force take a drink from the Ohio or make a track in the Blue Ridge in a trial of a thousand years.

"At what point then, is the approach of danger to be expected? I answer, if it ever reaches us, it must spring up amongst us; it cannot come from abroad. If destruction be our lot we must ourselves be its author and finisher. As anatioon of free men we must live through all time or die by suicide.

"I hope I am over wary; but if I am not, there is even now something of evil omen amongst us. I mean the increasing disregard for law which pervades the country—the growing disposition to substitute the wildland furious passions in lieu of the judgement of courts, and the worse than savage mobs for the executive ministers of justice."

This and more Abraham Lincoln said in an address made at Springfield, Ill., in 1837. What he said then is applicable to present-day conditions. We need fear no outside foe—our destructioon will come from within unless we guard the institutions of our government which the constitutional fathers have handed down to us.

On account of the rush that will surely be at the last minute on account of the oorders issued by the fuel administration we would advise everyone to get your shopping done as early as possible and have all your goods delivered at once. Berryman's, Charleroi's Greatest Christmas store.

TO RESTORE HISTORIC SPOT

City of New Orleans Taking Steps to Preserve and Beautify Bienville's Landing Place.

An effort is be ng made in New Orleans to restore the old historic spots around the city. With the restoration of the old Place d'Armes, the rehabilitation of the Cabildo and the Pontalba apartments which surround it, and the preservation of all as an artistic center for the old French and Spanish quarter, an effort is being made to restore and preserve the landing place of Bienville, where he first set foot on the high land in 1718, at the place he was destined to convert into Nouvelle Orleans. This landing place, which lies on the river directly facing the Place d'Armes, which is now Jackson square, is covered with the switch tracks of the Southern Pacific and public Belt railroads, and with a part of the large steel warehouse belonging to the board of commissioners of the port of New Orleans.

Supporters of the Louisiana State museum have appealed to the mayor and the various civic organizations to have these sheds and railroad tracks removed at once inasmuch as the land, clear from the Cabildo to the river itself, was expropriated some time ago to be put in historical and artistic reserve. As all the water front of New Orleans and the east bank of the river belongs to the city and state forever, the completion of the artistic center is sure of accomplishment.

ACCEPTED MANDATE OF FATE

Young English Soldier Proved Himself Worthy When Called to Position of Responsibility.

When Rudyard Kipling's "The Man Who Would Be King" was published it was regarded as an excursion into the improbable, if not the impossible. It was the Anglo-Saxon imagination accepted by the colorful Hindustani civilization.

But the sober chronicles of the war have outdone Kipling. Thorneycroft, a twenty-two-year-old British trooper, found himself stranded in Turkey after Townshend's ill-fated offensive. Nothing daunted, he accepted his predicament as a mandatory of Fate. He proceeded to rule over a territory containing 30 villages and 60,000 people, and he ruled them until relieved by the martial law brought by Allenby's troops. The son of a hotel keeper of Bristol, he proved at the test that he was of imperial fiber.

Truth is stranger than fiction. It always has been and always will be. with Tommy Atkins or his first cousin, the doughboy, as protagonist. Each possesses the comic spirit that means adaptability, no matter what the emergency.

Marshal Joffre a Catalonian.

Possibly with more reason than the seven claimants to the birthplace of Homer, Catalonia makes out a good case for asserting that Marshal Joffre belongs to her by right of birth. The great estopper of the German first offensive is a native of Perpignan, where the Catalonian race predominated in past ages and where today are found many families which still retain Catalonian customs and language. Leading business firms of Catalonia, seeking to establish a tangible claim, have appointed a committee which is to proceed to Paris and present a sword to the great warrior, unless he fulfill a promise made at the peace conference that he will visit Catalonia, in which case the presentation will be made at Barcelona. This, of course, would be the occasion of a great celebration.

Mexicans Hold Strange Beliefs.

Few countries are richer in strange beliefs than Mexico, writes Charles Bernard Nordhoff in the Atlantic Monthly. There the witches assume the eyes of cats and flit through the night on vampire's wings. A brisk business is done in love potions and candle flames still point the way to buried treasure. The Mexican inherits his cruelty to domestic beasts from both the Spaniard and the Indian, and his superstitions may be traced to the same double source.

Eccentricity is not understood in Mexico. The native is a lover of formality, and one is judged largely by external things. Each man dresses according to his station, and it is unthinkable that a well-to-do man should wear a straw sombrero or carry a serape: the peons would be the first to jeer at him.

A Mild Call.

"I don't mind you writing gush letters in office hours," explained her employer, "but the management of the building complains that you put so much love in them that they block up the mail chute."

London authorities have ofund that soft pearls can be extracted from tripe. We always supposed that tripe must be good for something.

A feature in the various strikes now going on throughout the country is the fact that the strikers have given up their pay envelope. The semi-monthly pay is missing, and the worker who digs and delves and supports must depend upon his own resources to keep himself and family. However, those who call the strike never miss a pay day.

TIMBER SUPPLY IN DANGER

Expert Points Out What Seems to Him Imperative Need of a National Forest Policy.

"One of the most interesting things to come to my knowledge is the seeming lack of interest on the part of the people of the United States to save our forests," said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry association. "Our new growth of timber is not more than one-third of the amount being used or destroyed every year. There is an end to all things," continued Mr. Pack, "and the timbermen, lumbermen and wood-using industries must get together with the foresters on a national forest policy of some kind. We all know about locking the stable door after the horse is stolen, and we can all stand around and wonder what to do when the well runs dry, but what are we going to do when the forests give out? Place your finger on something into which the use of wood in the making does not enter. Rather hard for you to do it, I will say. The newspaper owner knows about the mounting cost of print paper and the cost of the barrel in which you find your flour has gone away up. You cannot eat the paper or the barrel, but they figure big in the high cost of living you hear so much about. We must have a national forest policy in this country, and that soon."

CHANGED FOR THE BETTER

Conditions, Especially in the Holy Land, Have Been Much Improved in Recent Years.

Whoever has journeyed to Cairo and from there desires to go on to Jerusalem may now buy his ticket in the Cairo railway station and look out of the windows of the train at the scenery of the plain of Sharon as he makes his trip. The rail connection has been completed by a new line from Cairo to Haifa, passing the ruins of Acre, where the Templars long ago had their last stronghold in Palestine. The journey from Egypt to the Holy land is greatly simplified: one need no longer land at Jaffa, nor wonder how much one's plans will be interfered with by uncertain conditions of wind and sea. More than that, Jerusalem is a much less dilficult place for the tourist to visit, and its points of interest may be much more conveniently inspected than they used to be. Good order is maintained, the city is under British discipline, the chance of "falling among thieves," more or less an accepted risk under the Turkish regime, need hardly be considered. One may visit the mosque of Omar without the undesired companionship of a Turkish soldier. A good deal of regret has been heard that "Europe would never be the same again" for tourists to look at, but in some respects at least it will be much changed for the better.

Embers.

Winter fuel is being gathered up wherever it may be found this autumn. In Paris the coal carts which all day lumber along the Avenue de Versailles on the edge of the Seine are followed by a troop of women and children armed with sacks and baskets. The road is worn, there are many holes, the jolts are frequent and bits of coal or coke come tumbling down. There is a rush and eager hands thrust the black treasure into grimy baskets and gaping sacks. The gleaners organize themselves into shifts—it's worth doing—they get as much as a sackful—one hundredweight—in one quarter of an hour. Thus Paris is taking in its coal—in good time. In London where all the streets, or nearly all, have been up this August and September there has been a harvest of half-worn tarred wood blocks—little heaps of them along the side of the road. No lack of customers either, and in areas and back yards tidy little stores of blocks have been put by for use in the coming winter.

Paternal Wisdom.

"Pa, what is an 'impresario?'"

"An impresario, my son, is—er—er—a man who runs a restaurant."

"But, pa, I thought he had something to do with a theater."

"That's right, my son. He's a man who runs a restaurant in connection with a theater."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Fashion's Power.

"Some of the most fashionable people are going to wear old clothes."

"That's terrible news," wailed the man with shiny sleeves.

"Why terrible?"

"If old clothes become fashionable they'll cost so much that nobody can afford to buy a second-hand suit."

"Out after hours again, eh?" said the father.

"Only ten minutes," replied the son.

"Well, go at once to your room, sir, lock yourself in, and bring me the key. This thoughtlessness must be checked."—London Tit-Bits.

Water Iris Good Fertilizer.

High value as a fertilizer is found in the water iris. The material is partially dried before stacking, and after becoming well rotted it proves to have about the same composition as farm yard manure, except that it is richer in potash.

CECIL B. DeMILLE'S PRODUCTION

"MALE and FEMALE"

A Paramount-Artcraft Picture

Founded on J. M. Barrie's famous play "The Admirable Crichton." Adapted for the screen by Jeanie Macpherson

CECIL B. DeMILLE has produced a considerable number of the biggest motion picture successes in the history of the screen.

If you saw his productions, "Don't Change Your Husband," "For Better, For Worse," and "Old Wives for New," you cannot forget them: every one a great human drama, every one a great Paramount Artcraft Picture.

In "Male and Female" you see the luxurious civilization of the stateliest homes of modern England—you see a sumptuous English yacht wrecked on a South Sea Island and its titled occupants flung ashore by the sea and forced to struggle for existence under Swiss Family Robinson conditions—and later you see the same characters moving amid the barbaric splendor of a court in ancient Babylon.

Are You Seeing Paramount Artcraft Pictures?

America's finest motion picture theatres, big and small, are showing Paramount Artcraft Pictures, week in, week out. Here are some of the recent productions. Make sure your theatre shows them: Marguerite Clark in "Widow by Proxy," Elsie Ferguson in "The Witness for the Defense," Wallace Reid in "The Valley of the Giants"; George Loane Tucker's Production—"The Miracle Man." Also, the Thomas H. Ince Productions: Enid Bennett in "Stepping Out" and Charles Ray in "The Egg Crate Wallop"; the Paramount-Arbuckle Comedies, the Paramount-Mack Sennett Comedies, and the Paramount-Burton Holmes Travel Pictures.

Phonographs

Gathered here you will find an almost unlimited assemblage of the best phonographs that have ever been produced — all models, all prices, all woods, all finishes.

Columbia Grafonolas $25 to $250

Sonoras $50 to $300

One year to pay

A truly wonderful stock of more than fifty famous Pianos and Players, such as the Kurtzmann, Autopiano, Pianista, McPhail, Kroeger, Brambach, Koehler & Campbell, etc., positively one of the largest retail stocks in Western Pennsylvania outside of Pittsburgh--more, we believe, than can be found in all other Charleroi music stores combined.

Schroeder's prices positively save you from $150 to $250. Come and convince yourself of the truth of this statement. Because of the enormous volume of business done by this house, we buy from the manufacturers at their lowest prices and because also of volume we can sell at a smaller profit than the average dealer could possibly stand. These two savings actually do make up a reduction of from $150 to $250. Come and see.

Three full years to pay for your instrument. These are the easiest terms in Charleroi, enabling any honest man or woman to own his or her choice of any piano in our stock and pay for it without feeling the burden.

You can purchase by mail. If you live at a distance from Charleroi you can write to us, describe the kind of Piano or Player you want, state the price you desire to pay, and we will fill your order with great care. We will prepay freight and give you a written guarantee of complete satisfaction.

Charleroi's Greatest Christmas Store

Open Evenings Until Christmas

When you think only 13 more shopping days until Christmas you begin to wonder where the time has gone. Nevertheless it is a fact and the sooner you get busy the less worry you will have in the end. Charleroi's Greatest Christmas Store will be open evenings until Christmas to accommodate those who cannot possibly get their shopping done in the day time, but we would advise all who can to "Shop Early," early in the week and early in the day. You will not only have the advantage of better stocks to choose from but more time and better service than the belated last hour shoppers who put everything off until the last day.

WILL RETURN EFFECTS OF LIEUT. LEVI LAMB

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lamb of California have received word from the Effects Bureau, 537 Greenwich street, New York, that the effects of their son Lieut. Levi L. Lamb, of Co. K, Ninth U. S. Infantry, would be forwarded to them within a very short time. They have already received a list of the articles which Lieut. Lamb had among his effects in France, and which he had stored preparatory to going to the front before the beginning o tfhe big German offensive on the 15th of July, 1918. In the opening of the Allied offensive on the 18th Lieut. Lamb was killed. His parents had great difficulty in locating his effects, but finally they were successful in locating the trunk and suit cases owned by the deceased and the government authorities will forward them to California within a very few days.

Constipation Causes Serious Ills

If you are its victim, try strengthening your digestive and eliminative organs with Nature's Remedy—it's better than laxatives.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

One of the world's greatest scientists says that more than 90% of all human ills can be traced directly or indirectly to constipation. How many sufferers realize this?

Most of them continually dose themselves with so-called laxative pills, calomel, oil, purges and cathartics and force bowel action. To do that is a mistake. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that constant drugging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out.

And NR does this without a sign of griping, pain or unpleasantness. It works gently, but promptly and thoroughly. In a few days you notice the real result. You begin to feel that you are living again, with new strength, new energy, vim and pep and power. You soon find your bowels acting regularly without help. Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

PIPER'S PHARMACY, CHARLEROI

SPENDING MONEY OF FLUSH TIMES

Reports from Homestead are to the effect that while the steel strike struck that borough rather easy it has struck the strikers hard. Through inquiries made a few days ago it was learned that times are not so bright among the idle men as they were when Foster promised that if they struck, the laborer would get as much as the superintendent. It is learned that high wages which these meen earned before they struck and which were expected to tide them over until it was won are melting away and there is considerable uneasiness among the men whose positions have been filled by other workmen. And now it is stated, although in Homestead it is not important, that the national strike committee representing 24 international unions will meet in Washington, D. C., December 12, when a vote will be taken on a propositioon to end the strike. The Homestead mills ceased long ago, according to the statement to feel even any annoyance from this strike and so far the coal strike has not affected them.

On account of the orders issued by the fuel administration we would advise everyone to get all their shopping done as soon as possible and have their goods delivered at once in order to avoid the rush the order will surely cause at the last minute before Christmas. TWO TRAINS TAKEN OFF LOCAL DIVISION

Under the revised passenger train schedule, announced by the railroad administration, to conserve fuel, and which becomes effective at 12 o'clock tonight, two trains will be taken off the Monongahela Division, neither one of which will affect the service south of Monongahela City. By this schedule train 7913, which leaves Marianna at 5:12 p. m., and due in Pittsburg at 7:51 p. m., has been taken off, as well as the train known as the Marianna "bummer." This later train, No. 7720 which leaves Pittsburg at 9:50 p. m. and arrives at Monongahela at 11:09. On Saturday night it ran through to Marianna. Due to the shutdown of the mines on the M. & W. branch the passenger traffic between Monongahela and Marianna has been exceedingly light and railroad officials likely looked upon the service out the branch as the one thatcould be best dispensed with during the coal shortage. The elimination of two trains mentioned will cut off all afternoon passenger service between Monongahela and points south in the Pigeon creek valley.

On account of the orders issued by the fuel administration we would advise everyone to get all their shopping done as soon as possible and have their goods delivered at once in order to avoid the rush the order will surely cause at the last minute before Christmas. WATER OF PECULIAR VIRTUE

Trouble With Philadelphia Visitor Was That He Didn't Understand Just How to Use It.

Harry N. Taylor, president of the National Coal association, said in Washington:

"It takes an optimist to look at the situation hopefully—an optimist like Rittenhouse Walnut of Philadelphia.

"Rittenhouse Walnut, in the days before Philadelphia got a filter plant, laughed heartily one evening at a friend who complained that the Philadelphia water was too muddy to bathe in.

"'Why, my boy,' said Rittenhouse, 'our Philadelphia water is the best in the world for bathing purposes. Why, it beats Marienbad.'

"'But it's so muddy.'

"'That's the point,' said Rittenhouse. 'It's medicinal mud, full of phosphates and calories and things. Tonight you try a Philadelphia water bath, a good, long bath, and you'll feel like a new man. Let me caution you, though, to use no towel!'

"'No towel?' sneered the other. 'No towel, eh?'

"'No, sir; no towel,' said Rittenhouse. 'Just stand before the radiator and let the water dry on you. Then brush it off.'"

IRREPARABLE LOSS TO WORLD

Treasures of Louvain Library, Destroyed by the Huns, Can by No Possibility Be Replaced.

The completeness with which the famous library of Louvain was destroyed comes out in the report of the American committee which has been visiting the ruin with a view to building a new library of Louvain which is to be the "free gift of the United States." Some of the walls, pillars and buttresses remain standing and even retain their carvings and sculptures, but the heart of the library has been absolutely torn out. Of the contents of the Louvain library nothing at all is left; the few volumes that were found still retaining their shape crumbled when touched. Apart from the thousands of volumes that can be replaced the ruin contains the ashes of at least a thousand manuscripts that were priceless, because it would be impossible to replace them. There were, one may admit, more widely important things in the world, for example, than the two autograph manuscripts of Dionysius Carthusiensis, but Louvain was proud to possess these specimens of his handwriting, and all the wealth of the United States cannot give them back.—Christian Science Monitor.

Last of Calapooias Dies.

Down around Cottage Grove, Ore., the old-timers are only discussing what they remember of the Calapooia Indian tribe. The last specimen of the tribe, Sam Fern, went to the happy hunting grounds a few days ago and the people at Cottage Grove are wondering what will become of the land which the Calapooia tribe was using. Some of it is exceptionally fertile land. The tribe got its name from the range of mountains in that vicinity, or vice versa, and the Calapooia were always a peaceful band. This tribe went through the great fire which swept the coast range about a century ago, when the only way the Indians could save themselves was to remain in the rivers for several days. The fire was so intense that the water became warm. Calapooia Indians declared that the wild animals also fled to the river and wolves and deer paddled around together in perfect harmony.—Portland Oregonian.

Artist vs. Photographer.

Early in the submarine campaign, one of our boats was given a coat of camouflage, and when the vessel sailed from its pier in the North river, New York, the owners sent a photographer two or three piers down the river to photograph the ship as she went by. He took the picture, writes A. Russell Bond, in his "Inventions of the Great War," but when the negative was developed, much to his astonishment, he found that the boat was not all on the plate. In the finder of his camera, he had mistaken a heavy band of black paint for the stern of the ship, quite overlooking the real stern, which was painted a grayish white. The artist had fooled the photographer and at a distance of not more than 200 or 300 yards.

"Haw, haw, haw!"

"What's the joke, Hiram?"

"There wuz a feller through here a spell back tryin' to sell Lige Beegum one o' them farm tractors."

"Well?"

"If half the stories I hear are true Lige's got a gallon of corn licker buried about every twenty feet on his farm, with just a little dirt on top, so he can get at it without much trouble when th' spirit moves him. As long as Lige is in his right mind you couldn't get him to run as heavy a thing as a tractor over his land. It's too durned fertile."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Model Husband.

"Jonesy's military training has certainly fitted him for married life."

"How's that?"

"When his wife hauls him over the coals he stands at attention."—The Home Sector.

Exact Locality.

"Does your employer, as alleged, live in melancholy sequestration?"

"No, sir; he lives in the suburbs."

Where the Spike Went.

Answering a question as to what became of the gold spike that was driven into the last rail laid in building the Union Pacific railroad on its completion in 1869, a subscriber writes: "It was first photographed, and then melted up and recast into very small spikes about 15-16ths of an inch long, and they were distributed to the more prominent railroad men present. Among the recipients was my father, now deceased, from whom I received one of the photographs mentioned and a miniature gold spike. There are probably very few of these now in existence. The original spike was full size and engraved with the officers' names and titles. The miniature was engraved with the date May 10, 1869, and the words: 'Last spike of the Pacific Railway,' and 'Presented by D. Hewes.'"—Outlook.

Cheer Up and Gear Up.

It takes cheers and gears to make this old world go. The average man has so many things that hold him back that he is in danger of giving up. But the great men of the age are the product of trial. They come through the furnace tried and fitted for life's obstacles because they have dared face the upgrade with a smile. Emerson says, "Nature, when she adds difficulties, adds brains." That may not seem to be true while we are under trial, but the saying holds in the long run. And, besides brains, you must have a reasonable measure of good cheer. It's so easy to go down because there is nothing in the mind to add resistance to the constant thud of adversity. You must cheer up as well as gear up if you are going to win.

Developing the Sahara.

It has been chiefly the depressing anarchy and lack of safety which have prevented the Sahara from undergoing a useful development. This is an irrefutable fact; thus, for the most abandoned portions geologists have declared that oases could be either created or notably enlarged. It is probable, in fact, that as soon as all the wells are put in proper condition, all the waters are cared for, and advantage taken of all the streams having a capricious or subterranean course, groups of population no longer fearing spoliation of their property and the fruits of their labors by nomadic robbers, will settle in the most favorable places.

Home.

Home is the blessed place where we expect to be judged at our best and have our worst forgiven. We may know that the sympathy our failures receives is not wholly deserved, and may secretly understand that the praise of our successes should be discounted, but that does not in the least detract from the value of either. It is love's backing that makes us at once strong and humble—brave to face adverse opinions without and more determined to bring home better results to the kindly critics of the fireside.

Potent Persian Liquor.

Almost every Persian household has the facilities for making "maul-hyar." Being distilled from fermented orange peel it is full of intoxicating, as well as fiery, qualities. It is very quick in action and the traveler to Persia who takes a drink of this strong potion without knowing its "knock-out" nature has a big surprise in store when he wakes up next morning with a headache and with no memory of what had taken place the evening before.

Were Hearty Eaters.

Many great musical composers had exceptionally large appetites. When Handel dined alone at a restaurant he usually took the precaution of ordering a meal for three. Haydn, yet more voracious, was known to consume a meat that would have satisfied five ordinary appetites.

WEEKLY SPECIALS

In naming bed-rock prices weekly, we aim to help the careful housekeeper to reduce to a possible extent the abnormal cost of living. The prices are the same to all, whether you buy one pound, one can or one case or a bag at a time. Our weekly special prices, often below Pittsburg Wholesale prices and seldom above will enable you to buy at leisure and after mature consideration and comparison with prices named by others. A careful comparison will prove the aggregate saving will amount to quite a considerable sum.

To prove this to yourself, take for instance an order that you are about to make with another store and spend but a few minutes by comparing our prices as listed in our weekly specials with those the other stores are charging. Check up item by item, price by price, quantity by quantity and quality by quality. What you decide after that will not worry us in the least.

To buy successfully and safely you should buy through our weekly specials.

Please note carefully, that to insure yourself of the benefit of our weekly specials, your order must positively reach us before the following Monday at noon.

Do Your Xmas. Shopping Early

A Suggestion For Christmas

The tendency has been, during the past few years, toward giving useful and lasting Christmas presents rather than costly novelties which are soon tired of. Such gifts express the Christmas spirit justas effectively and are of real value to the persons who receive them.

No gift meets these requirements any better than West Penn Railways Company Preferred Stock. It is valuable because it represents an interest in properties of great value and because the owner is assured an income of $6 per share per year. It is an income producing gift.

Another thing well worth while is that such a security is of inestimable value in time of trouble. If you need money badly and on short notice, and have a few shares of West Penn Railways Preferred Stock to fall back on, all you need to do is to take the stock to any bank and borrow money, using the stock as security for the loan. Buying yourself or some one who is dear to you some of this stock is a good way of providing protection against the dreaded "Rainy Day."

This is undoubtedly a new idea, but think it over. It deserves your careful consideration.

The stock is now being sold at $82.00 per share at which price it yield's 7.32 per cent on the money invested.

CURRENCY MELTED IN CHINA

Chinese "Cash" Has Gone the Way of Many Other Forms of Money in That Country.

With the end of the war comes the end, one may believe, of an odd spectacle sometimes seen in the neighborhood of Tsinan, Tsingtau, and doubtless of other Chinese cities—the sight of a Chinese coolie pushing a wheelbarrow loaded with coins on their way to be melted down for the metal. War conditions raised the price of brass and copper to such an extent that it was found profitable to purchase coins and melt them, a practice which brought inconvenience, for it materially reduced the circulating medium. Laws were passed against it, but they seem to have been more or less successfully evaded, and wheelbarrows continued to be used in supplying the smelters. Thus is added another incident in the long history of Chinese "cash," which began 3,000 years and more ago with the circulation of coins that had the shape of knives, still to be seen used as paper knives by foreigners in China who have picked them up searching for antiquities. Other shapes were introduced and before the Chou dynasty, about 600 B. C., the Chinese currency was ax-shaped and spade-shaped as well as knife-shaped. At that time round coins with a hole in them, so that they might be held together with a cord, were introduced and found much more convenient.

HAS VAST STORE OF GOLD

Nearly a Million and a Half Pounds of the Precious Metal at Kolchak's Command.

Something of the Arabian Nights, a memory perhaps of Ali Baba when he discovered the treasure cave, is suggested by the story of Kolchak's gold supply and the visit of inspection by foreign correspondents under the guidance of the Omsk government's minister of finance. About 1,440,000 pounds avoirdupois of gold: such is said to be the reserve of the Kolchak government at Omsk. Its value in American money is placed at about $475,000,000. "In one room there were about thirty tables loaded down with gold in all forms requisitioned by the bolsheviki from the people. . . . Conspicuous in this lot was a set of solid gold dishes, formerly the property of Mr. Tereschtschenko, one of the wealthiest of the Russian nobility." The set of gold dishes in the upheaval of Russia, had passed through several hands before falling to the bolsheviki, and eventually to the Omsk government and at least one of the possible heirs had renounced the title to it in view of its use by that government in the restoration of Russia. Most of the gold however, was displayed in coins and ingots and its exposition was meant to inspire confidence in the ability of the government to finance some of its immediate operations.

She Told the World.

Getting on a car I hustled into a window seat for comfort, and unconsciously crossed my legs placing my foot against the forward seat to brace myself back as I opened my newspaper.

Later on I was suddenly brought back to self-consciousness by the terrifying scream of a woman in front of me as "rip" went the back of her clothing.

When I planted my foot against the forward seat I inadvertently anchored the two tails of her jacket, or whatever it was that had slid down through the opening, and caused her to arise with such disastrous results. And when she told the world what I had done it was hard telling which of the two was most embarrassed.—Chicago Tribune.

Puzzles.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs Torkins, "everything you see in print now refers to some problem."

"I have observed it."

"I wish we could go back to the style of literature that prevailed in our parents' time and keep all the puzzle pages in the back part of the magazine."

In Washington.

"I wish," said the head of the department, "to let some of my clerks go."

"Why?"

"I have nothing for them to do."

"Huh," said Senator Graball, "that's a queer reason for wanting to let clerks go."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Do you find the same old trouble in getting your boy awake in the morning?"

"No. It's the other way around now. Since he was in the army Josh has made it his business to wake up everybody at daybreak, blowing a bugle."

Sweden Using Wooden Corks.

Owing to the scarcity of true cork in Sweden wooden corks are being used in that country, the substitutes being made from quick growing pine. This wood has wide annual rings and one of its characteristics is its tendency to swell somewhat after it has been fashioned into stoppers.

The Bargain Rush.

"One would think those women were rushing to get a husband," growled the man in the department store.

"No," said his wife, sweetly, "they're after hairpins at 3 cents a paper. Something useful."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

NATURE NEVER IN A HURRY

Taking Lesson From Wise Old Mother, Man Will Learn to Curb His Foolish Impatience.

We sometimes get impatient at the slowness of world improvement. We see the cruelties of a great war, cruelties beyond belief, and we are sick at heart to think the world is not in a mood overnight to abolish war. We see ignorance leading to poverty and wretchedness and we wonder that education is not made universal at once. We see preventable sickness producing disability and suffering and we are hopeless at the slow dissemination of modern medical knowledge and preventive measures.

And then it is borne in on us that Nature never is in a hurry. Out in Colorado the Rocky mountains turn a tumbling sea of peaks toward the sky. Standing on the summit of Pike's or Long's and looking off of that chaos of rock one naturally thinks some frightful convulsion of Nature threw up these mighty peaks.

But that thought is wrong. Geologists have learned that the mountain ranges were slowly and imperceptibly carved out by the action of rain and snow and frost and ice. First the highlands slowly emerged from the ocean. Then the rains and streams and glaciers made gullies and left the peaks. An observer returning at century intervals probably would have seen slight change. But eventually the work was done and the mountains made.

That is the way Nature operates. Man can afford to curb his impatience. —Kansas City Star.

INVENTOR MAKES WATER TALK

Contrivance Known as "Katie" Is Hailed as a Most Valuable Aid to Navigators.

"Katie," one of the most wonderful inventions exhibited at the recent shipping engineering exhibition in London, is likely to prove the most valuable aid to sea captains and navigators yet discovered. "Katie" is the name given to the invention of an engineer, by which he makes water talk.

It is an automatic float, with a sensitive depth-finding mechanism connected telephonically, and is placed on the surface of the water. Another delicate instrument rests on the bottom, with a wire connection. When an engineer wants to know the depth of water at a particular spot he rings up "Katie" on the phone and she tells him the exact depth.

She speaks in soft, jerky buzzes in the manner of the Morse code, and when she gets out of her depth she stutters. If the current is too strong she becomes speechless. "Katie" will also warn a captain how much water has got into the hold or the engine room after a collision.

The floating ship's safe is another wonderful invention. It automatically casts itself adrift from a sinking ship, and will send up a distress signal every hour for twelve hours. A sound signal is also given, and it will burn a light at night for three months.

Hard Luck.

Friends of a certain automobile owner are having a lot of fun these days with a story that leaked out about him after a fire at a downtown garage recently.

This motorist carried $800 insurance on his car and had been trying to dispose of it for several weeks for about $100 more than the amount of the insurance.

He kept the machine in the garage that was burned and, when informed of the fire, confidently told his friends how fortunate he was in having $800 worth of insurance on a machine for which he had been offered only about $700.

On arriving at the garage to make a survey of the ruins he was met by one of the attaches of the place, who congratulated him on the fact that his machine was one of the three or four that were rescued.—Indianapolis News.

What She Desired.

"Why, Norah," said her mistress, "how nice you look in your new dress and hat. I hope you will meet all your friends this afternoon so that they may see you in your fine clothes."

"Me friends, mum?" returned Norah. "What'll I be wantin' to see them for? Sure I don't care to make me friends jealous. It's me enemies I want to meet when I'm all dressed up."—Boston Transcript.

"Your friend from Cambridge seemed to enjoy the game."

"So he did. At one stage of the proceedings he quoted 'Hamlet.'"

"How so?"

"When Larry O'Rourke poled a hot liner about three inches to the left of first base in the ninth inning the professor shouted, 'A hit! A hit! A palpable hit!'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Married at Five.

Infant marriages are still prevalent in India. The latest returns show that in 1911 there were 151,518 "married men" under five years of age and 302,425 "married women" of the same tender age. Of "husbands" between the ages of five and ten there were nearly a million, while "wives" between these ages numbered well over two million.

ALREADY—at the very moment you read this—a thousand particularly intelligent men and women are asking their newsdealers for Hearst's for November. Minute by minute and hour by hour—all over the United States—this will continue until 500,000 of the most progressive magazine readers have secured their copies.

The others, disappointed, will have to wait until next month—or be satisfied with a lesser magazine.

YOU, perhaps, already have your November number. You have looked at the Table of Contents—Ibáñez, Maeterlinck, Conan Doyle, G. K. Chesterton. Or nearer home; Judge E. H. Gary, head of U. S. Steel, on "Something More Than the Pay Envelope." Or B. C. Forbes, K. C. B., Walt Mason, Dr. Frank Crane. Or you have, maybe, turned first to the Art—Play—Book—Science—of the Month. One thing is certain, you have noticed the real authority of Hearst's—its splendid serious side.

BUT—you say—you buy a magazine for its fiction. Good! Here in Hearst's for November are stories by Robert W. Chambers, Richard Washburn Child, Arthur Somers Roche, and Bruno Lessing, Arthur Stringer, Edwin Balmer and Gouverneur Morris. Besides these are three English writers, F. E. Baily, Derek Vane, E. Phillips Oppenheim—as well as Maurice Level, the best of the modern French writers. All these and several others in selected stories—stories that will make you think!

IF you don't particularly care for a magazine that will make you think—if you are not interested in a magazine a bit beyond the ordinary—you won't want Hearst's this month or any other. BUT, if you want the works of the world's great writers; if you want the words of the world's real leaders; if you want the thoughts of the world's great thinkers; don't fail to make sure each month—starting today with November of getting your regular copy of

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR SETTLEMENT OF COAL STRIKE DURING WEEK

President's Offer Tentatively Accepted by Miners' Executive

MEET TODAY AT INDIANAPOLIS

"Palmer's proposition is that the President will appoint a commission with full authority to determine the proper wage basis, this commission to absorb the functions of the Fuel Administration. Meanwhile miners are to be ordered back to work at 11 per cent advance and Lewis and Greene will recommend this at meeting of miners' policy committee at Indianapolis."

The above is a copy of a telegram sent by the Fuel Administration at Washington sent to eight operating companies near Johnstoown on Monday, in reply to a question asking what the government proposition was.

Philip Murray, president of District No. 5 which includes the Monongahela valley, on Monday received a telegram from acting President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers saying, "Have tentatively accepted basis of settlement to be presented general meeting at Indianapolis Tuesday. Have your scale committee present."

Mr. Murray said after receiving the telegram, that if the offer made by President Wilson is good enough to be tentatively accepted by President Lewis, it makes a plan of undoubted merit which will be finally accepted.

These two items appear to be the high spots in the local coal situation and it is confidently predicted that before the week is over the strike will be called off and the miners directed to return to work at once. It may be that this will be done before the week is over and the railroad mines at least be operating not later than Thursday. Owing to high water in the river it might take longer to get the river mines back into operation.

However, the outlook is very bright for a general resumption of the coal mines in the country and an upward boost for continued prosperity.

BAZAAR IS VERY SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The Ladies of the First Presbyterian church have announced that the bazaar which was held Friday, Saturday and Monday was the most successful one ever held by the church. Much credit is due to Mrs. J. G. Steinbaugh, Mrs. Lee Showers, Mrs. W. C. Clark, Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. I T. Daniel, Mrs. Guy Schrodes, Mrs. Espy, Mrs. Sherman Mason, Mrs. J. W. Hunter, Mrs. George W. Risbeck and Mrs. A. C. Keller for their untiring efforts in promoting the bazaar.

It used to be there were plenty of wild turkeys for the country. Now it is the fellow who tries to buy one who is wild.

Speaking of political camouflage, the Red headquarters in Chicago are located on Blue avenue.

EGGS HIT HIGH SPOT IN PITTSBURG MARKET

Eggs were selling at 90 cents a dozen wholesale in the Pittsburg markets on Monday and some dealers predict that the retail price will reach $1.20. The old H. C. L. appears to keep just a step ahead of the average man's salary.

RED SEAL SALES NOW REACH $850

The campaign for the sale of Red Cross Seals still continues, and while the returns of Monday were somewhat light, the managers of the campaign are still hopeful of reaching their goal in the sale of 100,000 stamps. Donora has sold more than its quota, while other towns are making excellent progress in disposing of the Seals consigned to them. It is the desire of the Musical Club that Charleroi takes its proper place in the list of municipalities that have done their share in this splendid work. The total sales approximately for Charleroi are now about $850.00, leaving $150.00 yet to be realized. A little more effort and a further loosening of the purse strings on the part of those who have not yet purchased and the duty has been well done.

The following list of sales are reported for Monday:—John B. Schafer $10.00. Theodore H. Sloan $2.50. C. Brown $2.50, Greenberg Brothers $5.00. Edwin Patton $2.50.

Children who have sold $1.00 or more—Gordon Knight $1.25. Jean Potts $1.00. Alice McKean $7.30, Virginia Bateman $5.00. Evelyn Warrensford $1.00, Ruth Fox $1.35. Anna Mae Ferguson $1.40. Margaret Clark $5.00.

HEALTH OFFICER DARBY AT HOME QUITE ILL

Health Officer William Darby has been confined to his house since last Friday and is likely to be off duty for several days. Mr. Darby was taken suddenly ill last Friday noon at his office, and a physician was at once summoned. At the time he was taken ill he was waiting to see Dr. Mitchell of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pittsburg, who had been summoned to Charleroi to inspect a beef carcass, which showed signs of tubercular trouble. The carcass was owned by a Monessen butcher and after inspecting in company with Dr. Hunter, Dr. Mitchell ordered it destroyed at the local incinerating plant.

FIX DOG TAX THE SAME AS LAST YEAR

The county commissioners at their meeting held on Monday fixed the dog tax at $1.75 for male and $3 for females, the same as last year.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. William Foulks, of North Charleroio on Saturday—a son.

Census Enumerators Wanted For Many Sections of Valley

R. L. Hildebrand, Census Supersisor of New Castle, in charge of this district, again calls attention to the urgent need of enumerators for a number of localities in this part of Washington county. He urges upon all those who contemplate taking up this work to write him at once and secure all the desired information.

The Director of the Census has fixed the compensation at the maximum allowed by the act, and enumerators will be paid 4 cents a name, and 30 cents for each farm schedule. This will make the compensation of enumerators compare with the high prices paid in other lines of employment, and should cause competent people to make application. The time is getting short and the Supervisor is anxious to have all the enumerators appointed before the day set for the opening of the enumeration.

The following districts in this part of the county are in need of enumerators: Charleroi borough, district four, 2; Carroll township 2; Donora district four 1; Donora district five, 1; Monongahela City 4; New Eagle borough 1; Dunlevy and Speers boroughs and Allen township 1; West Pike Run township 2; Coal Center borough and East Pike Run township, all north of Pike Run, 1; East Pike Run township, all south of Pike Run 1; California borough 1; West Brownsville 1; Cokeburg borough 1.

HUNTING PARTY HAS GOOD SUCCESS

Dr V. P. Vieslet returned home on Monday morning from a very successful hunting trip in Cambria county, in which he bagged a 6 prong buck deer. In the party besides Dr Vieslet were Tim Wilson of Lock Four, Dr. Shoaf and Henry Wilson of Donora and Dr Murphy .S M. Downer, Carl E. Gibson and William Landefeld of Monongahela. The party was in the woods for eight days and all told the party secured four deer, Dr. Vieslet getting one, Dr. Shoaf of Donora one. S. M Downer of Monongahela and Dr Murphy and Carl Gibson of Monongahela apparently having equal rights on the fourth.

Dr Vieslet, Dr. Murphy and Mr Landefeld arrived home Monday, while the balance of the party will return tomorrow with the carcasses. The "spoils" will be divided equally among the members of the party.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR DEATH OF HUSBAND

Josephine Wies of Monongahela is plaintiff in a damage suit being heard in which the Pennsylvania Railroad, per the Director General of Railroads, is defendant. She claims for the death of her husband, killed at the Loop street crossing at Monongahela on January 18, 1919. The husband was in business at Monongahela, occupying property on both sides of the railroad at this crossing. His shop was on the river side of the railroad. She avers that on the date he met his death he approached this crossing in an auto truck; that he stopped, looked and listened, and hearing or seeing no train, proceeded to cross. The truck was hit by a passenger train and he was thrown out and killed.

RESTRICTIONS ON THE USE OF FUEL

The government has placed certain restrictions on the use of electric light during the shortage of coal and from now on the new rules will be in effect.

No unnecessary street or ornamental lighting will be permitted, this including illuminated billboards and other outside display lighting.

Pool roooms and bowling alleys will be permigted to use lights between 7 p. m. and 11 p. m.

All stores except those selling food, are restricted to the use of light for six hours each day. Manufacturing plants to use light only during the same prescribed for use of power.

Drug stores and restaurants may remain open according to present schedule.

Railroad stations, hotels, hospitals, telephone, telegraph and newspaper offices are not included insofar as necessary lighting is concerned.

Electric railways shall reduce schedules to minimum requirements of service under revised hours of heating, lighting and power as provided.

No heat shall be provided on electric cars during rush hours and heating during non-rush hours shall be curtailed as much as possible.

In fact, practically the same regulations are now in force as prevailed during the war with reference to light and heat.

On account of the rush that will surely be caused at the last minute on account of the orders issued by the fuel administration we would advise everyone to get your shopping done as early as possible and have all your goods delivered at once. Berryman's Charleroi's Greatest Christmas store. 158t3

DIPLOMAS GIVEN LOCAL TEACHERS

In the Synod hall, Craig street, Pittsburg, on Sunday, the Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin addressed more than 400 persons, teachers and workers of the Diocesan Missionary Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Delegates from the 15 centers located in various parts of the diocese were present, and read reports of their activities during the past 12 months. The results of these reports showed an astounding amount of work accomplished for the moral and religious welfare of the children of the diocese, even in the remotest districts. In 166 Sunday school classes, 465 teachers are training over 14,000 children, chiefly foreigners.

Bishop Canevin said:

"There are three things that are important in the work of the confraternity. First and most important in the work is prayer. This, after all, is the great leader by which the moral and spiritual world is moved. The second element that must enter into the confraternity of Christian doctrine is work that has been done. The third means that is necessary is money, and if there is one part of the work of the confraternity that has not been successful as it might be, it is the accumulation of money. I believe that some organizations, some "Home Mission" organization ought to be formed throughout the diocese to afford ample for the great work in which you are engaged."

Following the bishop's address, 74 diplomas were conferred on teachers who had completed their two-year course of instructions, among whom were four teachers from the Charleroi Center. Mrs. Irene Lauderback Cotter, Misses Matilda Martinett, Ellen Bezy and Agnes Bezy. Charleroi Center has has 20 teachers who teach Christian doctrine each Sunday at Bentleyville, Ellsworth, Daisytown, Weaver and the Warner-Leonard mining district.

A large delegation from Charleroi Center attended the Pittsburg conference.

Donora Business Men To Discuss Question at Early Date

BOTH TOWNS FAVOR THE MOVE

The proposed bridge to span the Monongahela river as a connecting link between Monessen and Donora will again be brought before the residents of the two towns in the near future. This was brought to light at a meeting of fifty leading citizens of Donora, who met a few days ago to taken initial steps for the reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce of that town.

Speakers favored the organization more on the lines of a Board of Trade and committees were appointed to secure data regarding the methods of activity of Monessen organization and these will be presented at a meeting and banquet to be held in January, at which time an organization will be effected and officers elected.

Steps will be taken at this meeting to renew the activity of the Monessen-Donora bridge, and it is anticipated that with the co-operation of the Monessen Board of Trade this projeect will become a reality in the near future. The proposed bridge would span the Monongahela river at the upper portion of Donora above the blast furnaces, and reach the Monessen side somewhere in the vicinity of the Pagemill. The project has been talked of for a number of years both in Donora and Monessen and it is not improbable that some definite steps will be taken soon to place the project under way. Both towns realize the necessity of the convenience and ultimately hope to have it constructed.

TEMPORARY HEALTH OFFICER APPOINTED

At especial meeting of the Board of Health held Monday evening, W. G. Corey was appointed tempoorary Health Officer, on account of the serious illness of Officer Darby. During the temporary disability of Mr. Darby persons having business with the health officer will please call Mr. Corey, Independent phone 135-Y.
